

Emails received from our soldiers:

It's a miraculous occurrence in this day in age to have such wonderful people genuinely care about others, especially when the wonderful saints care for a soldier. Your efforts have meant so much to so many of us here in Iraq, and for that we are truly grateful.

The thing for which we are most grateful for, however, are their continuous thoughts and prayers sent our way. Perhaps there are some people in this world who have never FELT the power of a prayer, but there is such a thing, and I have FELT that power many times. THANK YOU so very much!!!

Lt B [REDACTED]

I was deployed to Iraq Jan 07-Jun 07. I know it has taken me a while for my thanks to reach you, but I wanted to let you know the warmth and love that I felt by receiving your packages with personal notes and homemade pillows. I didn't receive anything from my home church and it brought tears to my eyes that a church in Texas who had never met me or heard my name before would take the time to not only send something to me but to have it be homemade was an extra special touch.

I can't put words together to fully express my gratitude.

Thank you so much, SSgt S [REDACTED]
